CHILDREN TRUE HOME BUILDERS

In Biblical Times Baby Was Not Appreciated To Full Value.

CHANGE HAS TAKEN PLACE

Millions of Persons Now Employed to Amuse and Interest Youngsters.

When were babies first mentioned in history or the Bible? This is a question not very often discussed among the people of the present day. A few facts are mentioned in the following paragraphs in regard to their existence.

In the old testament one will find that children were mentioned, but twice, this includes all the centuries until Christ's birth. The Christ Child was mentioned, but with this exception children were forgotten by men of literature.

People of these times did not realize the value of a child in their home. They did not realize the loving attitude of the child towards its parents, which it shows by trying to imitate their actions. It tries to talk and walk when a mere baby, this shows the observation the child gathers in one short year, sometime even in less.

A home without a child is like a chain with a missing link. One will not as a rule find the true happiness and pleasure in a home without a child. In the time of worship of idols, the people of those days would sacrifice their infants by throwing them into the river to be eaten by the alligators. They did this in the belief that their souls would give them ample reward for their sacrifice. In time of war, among these savages, it was customary for the father to offer one of his children to his god. This was done so that he might have success in his undertakings. In the time of sacrifice there were very few children that had the opportunity of attaining their manhood and womanhood.

Children are mentioned several times in Shakespeare, but after his time until within the last few centuries people began to comprehend that the child was a home builder as well as a home binder in a home. The last few years has been the children's age, almost everything has been done to try and amuse the little people. Large manufacturing plants have been established that devote all their time to making toys and playthings of every description. Department stores use large space to display these articles. Newspapers publish whole pages of interesting stories and fairy tales to interest them and they are rapidly coming into their own.

MANY UNDELIVERED LETTERS AS RESULT OF CARELESSNESS

There are hundreds of letters lying in the post office today that are unable to be delivered on account of being insufficiently addressed. When seen by the Capital Postmaster Armstrong stated that these men were busy trying to locate the addresses for these letters. Only this morning a letter was received from the leading firms of the city addressed to Mr. So-and-so, city. This letter will likely remain in the post office until the 15th of January and then it will go to the dead letter office where it will in turn forward it to the firm and charge them two cents for their negligence in not properly addressing the letter.

Another source of undelivered letters is caused by the fact that some people do not write plainly, and when one remembers that the sorters handle from 5,000 to 6,000 letters per hour, it can be understood that it is absolutely necessary to have the address exact and legible. The postal department, too, every means possible to deliver letters. Every mail-carrier is instructed to find out the future address of any people who are moving out of their territory and to get the last address of any newcomers. These reports are turned in to the office and mailed to the deliver letters. Many letters are delivered that otherwise would be sent to the dead letter office. For the purpose of facilitating matters for the postal department.

INCORPORATED 1670 HERBERT E. BURDIDGE, STORES COMMISSIONER

POLICE ASKED TO AID IN FINDING MISSING WIFE

The aid of the police department has been enlisted by William Taylor to help him in finding his wife. Mr. and Mrs. Taylor have been staying at the Royal George hotel, and on Monday, January 5, Mrs. Taylor went out for a walk, and that is the last that has been seen of her. The husband is at a loss to explain her mysterious disappearance, as they had no trouble or quarrel which would account for her leaving him.

Fire Chief Complains.

Fire Chief Lauder in a letter to the commissioners complains about the unnecessary delays that he experiences in ordering every little thing he requires through the stores and works as arranged last year by Mayor Short. He pointed out that his department is purely an emergency department and that therefore he should have the privilege of ordering where he could get the most prompt service. The commissioners have concurred with his view and ordered him to return to his former method of purchasing goods except in cases where large orders are placed by contract, in which case they would be handled through the stores and works.

The Amir of Afghanistan receives from the government of India annual subsidy of about $600,000.

Will Use New Bridge.

The approaches to the Anthony street bridge will be completed as soon as possible and all vehicular traffic will then use this structure. Having the present temporary wooden bridge for the street cars alone. Superintendent Alton has been instructed to have this work done as soon as possible. He reported that the present crossing where the street cars and all other traffic use the Anthony street bridge is very dangerous and is at all probability result in a serious accident if continued. The cost of the approaches to the concrete bridge recently constructed by the C.P.R. will be $1,100, but most of the planning will be serviceable for other work when the C.P.R. gets around to complete the approaches to the new structure.

ESKIMOS SPRUNG SURPRISE BY DOUBLING SCORE ON CHINOOKS

Have Improved Wonderfully Since Last Game—Sutherland and Dea Were Stars—Game Was Clean Throughout—Final Score 8 to 4—Eskimos Had Strong Defence—Ice Was Good

GOOD OLD 128-KIMOS! Who said they couldn't come back? They tell anyone who tells them they are in the discard. NO SHRE! No the way the route are.

If anyone had ventured the statement yesterday that the Edmonton Eskimos would double the score on the Calgary Chinooks, they surely would have been given the "Hot Hat." But that's just what happened last night. "Name Runner" had it, that the Chinooks were the fastest things that ever were skated, and take it from us they are fast, but the team they ran up against last night was not the Eskimos of last week. The same players, to be sure, but as a team, and as individual hockey players they have improved several hundred per cent. Just what line of play in the training camp and in the arena to witness the game and needless to say, the majority of them came away well satisfied. The ice was in excellent condition and the game all through was fairly fast.

Dea Played Well.
Howard Dea, it was thought would not be on the Eskimos lineup, significantly could not resist the temptation, and was in his usual position. To say that he played a good game is putting it mildly. We venture to say that Dea has not showed up so well in two seasons. He simply played a whole of a game, and time and time again brought the crowd to its feet by starting individual rushes. He was one of the best men on the ice.

Neil Sutherland Good.
Shining high honors with Dea, was Neil Sutherland. He displayed some wonderful stick handling in his long rushes and figured prominently in the scoring. The Eskimos defence worked Eskimos score again, via Duncan, after a splendid combination rush. Gordon allowed scored again but Crooks saved. The Eskimos were working hard, but Chinook forwards broke away and Reid was called upon to block a hard one. The Eskimos missed two chances on off-side passes. Score 4-3.

Eskimos score again when Dea gets the rubber near his own goal, and after a long rush, passes to Neil Sutherland, who pokes it in, after four and half minutes of play. The goal umpire had no sooner held up his hand than a fight started behind the Chinooks' goal, but was soon stopped and no one was put off. Score is 5-3. Eskimos miss another opportunity to score, by poor passing, and both goal-keepers are kept busy. Eskimos forwards attacked, and Duncan shot, but Crooks was there with the necessary. They were not to score when close on Calgary goal. The game showed up at this stage and each team tried long shots, which were well looked after by the goal keepers. With but one minute to play, both teams tried one last chance, but Reid and Crooks are equal to the occasion, and the game ended without further score. 5-4.

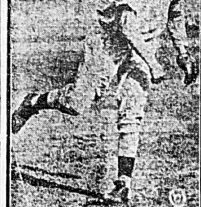

The game was remarkably clean throughout. Only four men decorated the fence—two from each side, and the pugilistic affair in the second half was of short duration. Heavy body-checking, cross-checking, slashing and tripping, were conspicuous by their absence. Altogether, it was a mighty fine game to watch, and the teams were pretty evenly matched. With this splendid record of form, shown by the Eskimos, the Dominions will have to be at their best to beat them.

Referee Harold Denton is to be complimented on his good work, and kept the players in close check at all times. A splendid start car service after the game, sent everybody home in good spirits.

The line-ups were as follows:
Eskimos: Goal—Crooks; Defence—Sutherland, Dea, Gordon, Reid; Forwards—McQuarrie, Bishop, McDougall, McQuarrie, McDougall, Reid, Sutherland, Dea, Gordon, Reid. Chinooks: Goal—Crooks; Defence—Sutherland, Dea, Gordon, Reid; Forwards—McQuarrie, Bishop, McDougall, McQuarrie, McDougall, Reid, Sutherland, Dea, Gordon, Reid.

MATTY'S BIG LEAGUE GOSSIP

BY
CHRISTY
THE GIANTS' STAR PITCHER

Fred Clarke has a more even temperament than Chance, but he is not the iron, driving machine. Nevertheless, the strain of the game began to show on him three or four years ago, and he has now become a bench manager, pure and simple. Clarke climbs all over the bench during a game, too, because from it he can see the mistakes of his men more plainly than when he was looking after his own job, and because they have made a plenty in the last couple of years. Still was let a player's manner enough for the job to tear his nervous system him from track.

Up to this point I have been speaking of playing managers who led winners. Look at the strain on the losers. Miller Huggins was fitting with the strain of nervous prostration last summer because he is ex-citability by nature and he was losing and his players were sons and the owners were. I heard a story recently that applied to the manager of a losing team. It may be old one but it has the virtue of being brief. The inelegant, after gambling with his own money, he was sitting on the foot rail of his bed. It had deserted an urban rider.

If you are really a monkey," said the man, drawing a bead on the animal with a revolver, "then you are a beluga fish, and if you are not a monkey, then I'm in a beluga fix."

Any manager who is running a losing club and trying to work in the lineup, too, is in a "beluga fix."

All this discussion was to lead up to the personality of "Charlie" Herzog, who is preparing to manage the Cincinnati Reds. Herzog is the sort of player that the strain of the season wears on greatly, and that, too, without carrying any managerial cares on his shoulders. He worries if there is any criticism of him in the newspapers. McGraw was after him continually to quit reading the newspapers.

Don't pay any attention to what they say, Herzog. "Mac" would say, "I don't care what they say about you. They can't manage my club for me."

Herzog is high strung and is one of those players who is always worrying for fear he is not making good. Any criticism from fellow players, even spoken in a moment of temper when a man is sore, he often is rumbles Herzog for days.

When he was with the Giants for the first time during spring training, Herzog got in a jam with old "Doc" McMillen, who had made some crack about a play that Herzog had just off. The words began to fly thick and fast until fists were substituted for the words and the two had to be torn apart. I have always believed, was one reason why McGraw let Herzog go from the Giants to Boston.

There is a famous play, which many will recall, which worried Herzog for a long time, although none of the Giants, not even McGraw, ever said anything to him about it. This was in the play-off game in 1916, when the Cubs met and defeated the Giants in the extra battle that was to decide the championship.

Of course, everybody was high strung that day. In one of the early innings I think it was the first or second—things began to look good for the Giants. Herzog was on first base, and Kling pulled an old trick, dropped a strike and the ball rolled only a little way from Kling's feet. Herzog grabbed the ball and made a break for second only to be stopped.

Y. M. C. A. PLANS A HEAVY YEAR'S PROGRAM FOR BOYS' SWIMMING DEPT.

Life-saving Tests and Galas Will Be Held, To Promote the Art of Swimming Among the Boys. A Systematic Course of Instructions and Tests Has Been Planned.

This year, however, things are going to change take place in the boys' swimming department at the Y. M. C. A. Since the inception of the "Y," no very great interest has been taken in the job and the boys are out with the very important branch of activity has not received the attention it should and very naturally our sporting friends to the south have carried off all the honors of late, as far as our swimming goes.

PRESIDENT TENER VOICES OPINION ON BASEBALL WAR

Cincinnati, Jan. 8.—President John K. Tener of the National league, at a meeting of the directors of his organization here today issued a statement in which he proposed that public opinion would be on the side of the organized baseball in case a war is waged by the Federal league.

Pointing out that the Federal league attacks upon organized baseball have been confined to two points, one that the reserve clause was invalid and the other that the parties to the national agreements are members of a trust, President Tener voiced his opinion that neither charge could be considered seriously. The statement follows:

"Baseball today owes its popularity and very existence to organization. Such organization alone has developed and will preserve and perpetuate the game. Nevertheless, organized baseball is being attacked today by those and those only who desire to reap commercial benefits thereby.

"Today, however, finds baseball more completely and thoroughly organized than ever and therefore better able to withstand and combat the attacks that are being made upon it. The Federal league does not base its attacks upon an allegation that the public has not been given good, clean, high class baseball, or that the players have not been fairly treated or paid commensurate salaries, but it is endeavoring to induce players to break their contracts and seek to excuse and justify its conduct upon two legal points, namely the alleged illegality of the reserve clause in the players' contracts and the general statement that organized baseball constitutes a trust.

"But such a threatened war on organized baseball, begun by promoters for financial gain and based upon broken contracts of players taking no heed or account of the sport loving public or the real welfare of our national game, and I believe the disapproval of such a war, the best of the public opinion will count far more against this movement and its promoters than any technical decision from the courts, even though the courts should again uphold the legality and equity of the reserve clause."

OTTAWA APPLY THE WHITWASH TO CANADIENS

Ottawa, Jan. 8.—The Ottawas played again last night in the form that made the old "silver seven" famous. They applied the whitewash brush to Geo. Kennedy's Canadiens.

The score at the end of the play was 2 to 0. In the first stage of the game the Canadians offered a strong defensive system and held the Ottawas down to two goals in the opening period. They did not seem to be exerting themselves and many took it for granted that they would win through with a burst of speed toward the end.

TOOK SEVERE COLD.

A bad cough accompanied by that distressing, tickling sensation in the throat is most aggravating.

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is the long leading virtues of the Norway pine tree, and for this reason it will stop that tickling in the throat which causes that dry hard cough that keeps you awake at night.

Mr. Sanford Roode, Antrim, N.S., writes:—"Last fall I took a severe cold which left me with a terrible hard cough and a nasty tickling sensation in my throat. I tried many good medicines, but they did not help me so I got a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, and before I had used half of it the cough had left me, and the next one I made a complete cure, and I will recommend it as the best cough medicine on the market."

See that you get "Dr. Wood's" when you ask for it. Do not accept any imitation. The genuine is put up in a yellow wrapper, these pine trees, the trade mark, price, 25 and 50c, and manufactured only by The T. M. M. Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

STRATHCONAS PLAY PENNTONS FRIDAY NIGHT SOUTH SIDE

At the South Side rink on Friday night the Penntons and Strathconas will meet in their second game in the Northern Provincial league. The Penntons have two wins to their credit, while the Strathconas have lost two games. The southerners, however, are on a par with either the Penntons or Varsity and may be counted on to make the boys from the big store hustle Friday night. The Strathconas held a practice last night and may work-out again today, while it is doubtful if the Penntons will hold another practice before Friday's game.

Frank Erns, Former Lightweight Champion, Only Buies Puiglit.

Switzerland produces some great mountain climbers and yodelers and chieftains and warriors, but the little European republic has turned out only one great boxer. He is Frank Erns, who was born in Zurich thirty-one years ago today, and who won the world's lightweight championship by whipping Kid Lavigne in a bout at Buffalo. Frank came to America as a "kiddie" and before he took to the fighting game he was pin-boy in a Buffalo bowling alley. His place of employment was in the same building that housed Tom Clark's fight club, and Erns soon became interested in the big game. He made a proposition to Clark to work for him a few hours a day to seek him out for instruction in boxing, and Clark accepted. He learned the principles of the game in a short time, and Clark gave him a chance in the ring against Young John Sullivan. The Swiss lad won in two rounds, and that decided him to take the game in earnest. He was about nineteen when he left Buffalo for New York, and he took him and fortune in the metropolis.

He saw him up this sports ring, and he knew that Erns was a man to be reckoned with. Erns went to Tom (Bookie) never known to refuse a chance to say something better. Erns got his opportunity and showed it. Frank was then in the featherweight division, and he held several fights with George Siga, California, and other boys. Then he took him on again, and lost the decision in twenty-five rounds. Frank was always unwilling to train properly, and even the weeks before an important bout he insisted on having rich food and plenty of sleep. By 1910 he was a lightweight, and fought Kid Lavigne for the title at Coney Island. This bout was a draw. In 1912 he again met Lavigne at Buffalo, and won the decision. After several bouts with mediocre fighters, Frank took on Joe Gans, and won the decision. Frank then made the great mistake of his career, he agreed to make 125 pounds. For several days before the battle he had to fast and take in the sun to make the required poundage. Erns entered the ring as weak as a kitten, and "Terrible Terry" dropped him in three rounds. In 1913 Erns was again matched with Joe Gans. The fight was pulled off at Jack Herman's Fort Erie club, and was one of the absolute title bouts on record. In the first round the severe pain over to the jaw that sent Erns down for the full count. Nobody was more "mistaken" than Gans who expected a hard battle. Later in the same year Erns went over to England and whipped Maloney, the English lightweight champion.

FUNDS ARE LACKING FOR OLYMPIC GAMES TO BE HELD 1916

London, Jan. 8.—A meeting of the special committee for the Olympic games, Berlin, 1916, held at the Polytechnic Regents street, was held yesterday to consider the position with regard to the public appeal for half a million dollars.

Though appeal was first made in August, 1913, and the definite statement was made in October, unless the fund reached $125,000 by the end of the year the committee would not be justified in proceeding further with the matter.

It is understood that the amount received is less than half the minimum. No information has been given out as to what took place at yesterday's meeting and it is declared no statement will be issued until after the special committee has made its report to the British Olympic council.

R. refuse the league a cheaper rate. The question of which of the three eastern clubs will open in Medicine Hat where they will get half of the general gate receipts, will be left to a draw.

His contract was received yesterday. He is a man of wide experience and last year was with the Wisconsin-Illinois league. Two other contracts are expected in a few days and are from first class men. Mr. Fleming has delved deep into the unsolved question and has secured men believed to be head and shoulders above those of other years.

FRANK OWENS WILL PLAY WITH TORONTO FEDERAL B.B. TEAM

Minneapolis, Jan. 8.—Frank Owens, catcher for the Minneapolis American association team may play next season with the Toronto club of the New Federal league. ## TODAY IN PULPITIC ANNALS

1903—Mr. Herman and Clarence Forbes fought 6-round draw at Chicago. Both Herman and Forbes were great scrappers. In their day, and there was a time when the old, who was a Chicago lad, looked like a young heavyweight champion. He studied his toe on Joe Foss, however, and the black men was too great an obstacle for him to overcome. Herman was the kid's front man, his best muscular being a front man, his best muscular being a front man, his best muscular being a front man.

IF HE DID NOT DRINK

Many men are good husbands and good fathers in every way except the habit of drinking. They have become so badly poisoned with alcohol that they cannot stop drinking.
